MAKES ATTEMPT TO BURN JAIL

CONVICTS MAKE DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE

Anniston, Ala. Jan 22.—A bold attempt was made by the negro convicts in the city prison late Saturday night, it was learned today, to secure freedom by burning the jail. The attempt, however, proved a failure and had it not been for the prompt work of Warden Wakley and other jail attachés, there would have been several 'cooked' negroes in Anniston today.

The fire was applied to the lattice between the cells and the outer wall of the jail. The floor of the cells caught and when the fire took turn, the prisoners began to turn. They evidently hoped to have their doors thrown open and escape the excitement, but they were left in the cells and forced to extinguish the flames with water which was handed to them.

There were but a few white prisoners in the jail at the time. These were not affected. All of the long white prisoners are kept in the county jail for safety as a result of the successful escapes. The damage to the jail has not yet been estimated.

G. C. Hughes, went to Sameon, today on business.

Oscar Garner, of Malvern, spent this morning in the city on business.

C. E. Segrest, of Blocomb, was a familiar visitor to Dothan this morning.

DAILY HEALTH CHAT By Gordon Lloyd, M. D.

CRIME AND DISEASE

It is a curious fact that if a man be born physically blind we pity rather than blame him, but if he is born morally blind we blame rather than pity him in his misfortune.

The normal individual is not a criminal and we shall some day come to look upon practically all crime as a product of disease. Inherited or acquired. Says an authority in this connection: We may look upon criminals as congenital defects, belonging to the great group of which the idiot is the most pronounced type and with an inherent incapacity to respond to social influences in the same way as normal persons.

Gilbert and Sullivan have in their inimitable Mikado a song entitled: Let the Punishment Fit the Crime. But the punishment should not fit the crime. It should fit the individual. Moreover there should be no punishment but treatment based on science.

We are kind to criminals, owing to this disposition of the criminal offender and our prisons are slowly evolving into moral hospitals. The idea that we should treat rather than punish the offender does not necessarily imply that he should get off lighter. At the Elmira reformatory where criminals are treated and educated rather than punished the tax upon most of them is more painful than the comparative indulgence of the average and fashionable jail.

The advent of the modern reform story and probation officer is the result of our gradual realization of the fact that criminals are men to be pitied rather than scorned, and that many of them, if treated early may be cured. A further evidence of this attitude towards crime is the passing of capital punishment in many countries and in many states. In Italy when the greatest students of crime have worked and where criminology is best understood capital punishment is forbidden. All attempts of criminology however are not opposed to euthanasia or painless death as a disposition of certain criminals. Such cases they hold as are hopeless, incurable and a burden to society are best disposed of in this way.

But legal measures whether capital or not will never solve the problem of the criminal offender. Proof of this fact is that crime is still on the increase, after some thousands of years of legal measures.

The problem after all is one of preventive medicine and education. When we shall have evolved far enough to restrict marriage to those fit for parenthood when we shall have educated men up to a realization of the truly grave consequences to themselves and particularly to their offspring of drunkenness and when we shall follow Indiana's method of preventing the propagation of the unfit when in a word we shall have fully grasped the relation of crime to disease and of disease to heredity then and not till then will we diminish crime and most of the woe of man.

A FIGHT FOR DISFRANCHISEMENT

Major Danley North since he fought for the Confederacy in 1861-65 had kept out of politics. The struggle in his home state for a white ballot brings him back to the arena thirty five years later. The major leads the fray and stamping in State secures the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution which eliminates the negro. In the story of his triumph the old campaigner comes home and there faces a crisis as awful and momentous as ever confronted the voters of the State. The story of that fight for an unadulterated home—a race problem vital as the State-wide question of disfranchisement—is told in Thomas Dixon's new play, The Sins of the Fathers. Those who thought Mr. Dixon exhausted racial issues in The Clansman will be wakened up by the Sins of the Fathers. This dramatic expose of an evil that imperils white civilization will be seen at the Opera House on Saturday Feb. 4th, afternoon and night. All seats reserved, on sale at Hammond's Drug Store Dothan, Ala. January 31st.

Mr. J. F. Tucker, of Cottonwood, Mr. L. W. Buckhalt, of Enterprise, and Miss Myrtle Hooten, this city, are new students that have enrolled today in the Campbell Institute of Shorthand and Accounting.

Hear ye! Oh! hear ye,
We the Witches cry,
Come Tuesday afternoon or night,
Whether or not the moon is bright,
There'll be fun and merriment,
Haste, and join our company.

Mrs. Grover Collins, of Troy, and Miss Bertha Parish, of this city, will be married tonight at the home of Rev. R. H. Folmar.

HONDURAN REVOLUTION TAKES NEW TURN—SHIP BEING DETAINED

New York Jan. 22.—A special to the Herald from Truxillo, Honduras, via wireless to Key West, says that after a few hours of defiance from General Manuel Bonilla, Commander Archibald P. Davis, of the U. S. cruiser Tacoma, Friday afternoon seized the armed vessel, Hornet—General Bonilla's chief asset—cast the rebel crew ashore, manned her with American gunners and engineers, and ordered her out of the harbor.

The Hornet's recent movements up and down the coast were taken in the light of threatened hostilities against Honduras by Commander Davis.

The Herald's dispatch says that the Tacoma steamed into port early in the afternoon after a hasty run to Ceiba to see that no disturbances had broken out there. Commander Davis immediately sent an officer bearing a message to General Bonilla declaring his intention of taking charge of the vessel in accordance with instructions from the Washington Government to prevent bombardment of Honduran ports where American property was in peril.

General Bonilla curtly informed Commander Davis' emissary that the Hornet was his property, that he had purchased the craft for war purposes and intended using her.

Upon receiving this message, Commander Davis sent his ultimatum that he allowed but two hours for the rebel leader to reconsider. On the expiration of this time General Bonilla had made no effort to comply with the American officer's command. His only words were: "It's up to you."

Commander Davis then passed close up to the Hornet, guns trained on the little ship. The Hornet's commander and General Bonilla offered no resistance to a boarding party, according to the Herald's dispatch. Her crew was sent ashore in small boats.

"PATTERIN' AFTER WHI' FOLKS"

Old Uncle Bulger, who knows his own race as well as he does the whites says:

"Dese niggers is comin' right on after de whi' folks. When de whi' folks was ridin' rubber tired bugles and high horses over Sunday even de niggers was walkin', but de soon got to birlin' fast horses too."

"Den, 'twout long 'fore de whi' folks got to ridin' in automobiles, and dat left Mr. Nigger. He don't ride in 'um, 'cep'in a few, whut learns to be one or dem shiffencees, and da mighty wence."

"Fust thing you know de whi' folks will be ridin' in de alships. Dats when de nigger will be lef'. He aint gwine turn no fool and rid' his neck in none er yo' alships. He wants to stay close to de groun'." "Taint er nigger's nature to git dat high-fun de groun'."

WILL FIX IT THIS WEEK.

This is the week set by the legislature to fix the whiskey legislation. It may not be finished this week, but the fight will be put on.

There was a rather plaintive note sounded in the Advertiser the other day. The Advertiser was just a little bit afraid that the state wouldn't adopt local option. We have never had any fears along that line, although many seem to think that the whiskey territory will not spread so much during this legislature.

We have known all along—three or four years ago, that the whiskey question would be pretty well settled, if the counties of Mobile, Montgomery and Jefferson were allowed to have saloons. Grant them saloons, and they will stand up for prohibition for the rest of the state.

The note of warning that the Advertiser sounds would indicate that there is some doubt about those counties getting it, but there is no cause for them to become alarmed.

POLL TAX TIME.

The average man who is due to pay poll tax goes ahead and pays it when he pays his other taxes. But there are men, who when tax paying time comes, count money paid for poll taxes thrown away. He doesn't mind paying the $1.50 when there is a hotly contested election on hand. He considers the price cheap for an opportunity to vote for the man or measures he favors. But it is wonderful how many people there are who considers paying poll tax a useless expense, and will not do so till the last moment. Some are bound to forget it even then, and such times they do have when the voting time comes, and there is a list of qualified electors passed around, and their names are on the list as poll tax defaulters.

There are several more days left in this year in which a poll tax could be paid. The time runs out the first of February.

During the spring and summer there will be some elections called. You might have thought a few months ago that your voting was over with for some time, and it was, but the situation has changed. The people of Alabama are not satisfied with the liquor situation, and never will be, but they are going to take another shot and see if the matter cannot be adjusted.

There was a rather plaintive note voted. They will be needed, and to get right, the poll tax receipt must come. If you haven't one, you had best get it.

SALOONS OR DISPENSARY?

The people of Houston county may be called upon during the next few weeks to decide which they will have, whiskey by saloons, or whiskey by dispensary.

We are just as much opposed to the sale of whiskey in Houston county as we ever were.

If a vote is had, we shall vote no whiskey at all, with the expectation of some time getting officials who want prohibition laws enforced, although, that seems to be some time off.

The thinking people of this community know there is no fault with the laws, but rather with their non-enforcement. We all know that prohibition can be made no prohibitive, but it takes officers who feel that way about it.

We all know though, that a bill will be introduced calling for saloons in Houston county, or in Dothan.

It is likely that a fight will be made for a dispensary.

Personally, we would take the dispensary, if the choice came down between the two evils, because we consider the dispensary the lesser of the two.

But the results of such an election, should it be held in Houston county, would be uncertain. Machinery is put to working that will bring great pressure to bear for saloons. We have lots of people who want saloons. We want the thing settled by the people. Then if the majority of the voters of this county say saloons, then saloons it will be. If dispensary is thought to be the proper thing by majority, then we should be satisfied with the dispensary, till we can get the people better educated.

The moral side of the question has been kissed good-bye.

It was not a moral question, so they said, when the amendment fight was on. Some contended that it was, but they got licked.

Now we all admit that the fight to come on will be a moral one. It will be a fight for whiskey or no whiskey, and if whiskey carries, then what form shall it be?

We have blind tigers because the laws are not enforced. If this is to continue, then we might as well make arrangements for the legal sale of whiskey. Too many people are tired of the tigers, which by the way, will come to the relief of the prohibitionists when the fight is sprung.

We believe that dispensaries will serve to lessen taxes more than the saloons, presuming that we will have one or the other. We believe that dispensaries will put more money into the school fund, and into the road fund, than would saloons. We believe that one in Dothan would put more money into town treasury than would saloons and it would offer less temptation to the young men and boys who have grown up here since the saloons were put out.

There is a crop of fryers just the right age and temperament to fall by the wayside if saloons were opened in this town.

There is an older crop—their daddies—who know this, for they know their boys, and know the things that tempt boys of this age and environment.

It is said that the man in the country will oppose dispensaries. He may do that. We don't know. We do know that if we have saloons in Dothan he will never live to see the day that he will get any of the money the things make, but will likely enrich the town by paying fines. That has been passed records. He never got anything from the old dispensary, but that system is gone forever. We will never have another dispensary in this town that will keep all the money. At least a third of it will go to the schools—equally divided, like any other school fund, according to children, or school districts.

It is probable that if we have a dispensary that one third of it will go in the good roads fund, and one third to the school fund.

The man in the country would then come in for a greater part than the man in town. He ought to grab the dispensary, as between it and the saloon. We don't know what he will do about it.

We hope he will have the nerve to vote both out, should he have the chance, but past records point another way.

Snowy Whiteness Reigns Supreme

1500 yards Pride of the West India Liner, made to sell at 15c, specially priced for this sale at . . . 9c.

B I X Cambric—2000 yards, good quality, worth 81-2c, priced for this sale at . . . 61-2c.
(Full yard wide.)

2 Boxes Torchon Laces—narrow—fine mesh—German made—worth 6 to 10 cents the yard—specially priced for this sale at . . . 5c.

Irish Crochet Embroideries, All-overs—Zedges—2 bands and one Galloon to each set. Specially priced for this sale.

We began preparations for this Exposition of the world's best white products last July by placing import orders ourselves for embroideries and laces. We augmented this by placing orders for white goods as soon as American and foreign lines were opened. We bought them figured on a ten cents cotton basis. We saved the profit usually made by the wholesaler by placing our own import orders, and we own our white goods at old prices, which means a great saving to you.

1000 yards Pride of the Field bleaching, cheap at 10c, priced for this sale at . . . 71-2c.

2000 yards 36 inch Cambric—made by Lonsdale Mills—pretty finish—good quality—priced for this sale at . . . 81-2c.

Clarence Whiteman's celebrated Flaxon—the linen finished fabrics that retains thru all kinds tub service, the same finish—the 25c quality at . . . 19c.

6000 yards Swis and Nansookedges and insertions, worth 10c to 35c. Special priced for this sale at . . . 71-2c to 15c.

We offer for your inspection, Monday and Tuesday, some rare patterns in embroideries. 'Tis really and truly an exposition of Switzerland's 1911 Productions.

NOT A DAY IN BED

Gramling, S. C.—In a letter from Gramling, Mrs. Lula Walden says: "I was so weak before I began taking Cardul, that it tired me to walk just a little. Since taking it, I do all the housework of my family of nine, and have not been in bed a day. Cardul is the greatest remedy for women on earth." Weak women need Cardul. It is the ideal woman's tonic because it is especially adapted for women's needs. It relieves headache, backache, dragging feelings, and other female misery. Try Cardul. A few doses will show you what it can do for you. It may be just what you want.
